One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscribers, living in Somerset county, state of Maryland, on the 26th of December last, two Negro Men; George and Randel—George is about six feet high, twenty-two years of age, and of a yellow complexion—had on when he went away a dark cloth coat, kersey breeches and white yarn stockings; he is a pretty good player on the fiddle.—Randel is about five feet two inches high, twenty years of age, and of a yellow complexion, has a loud hoarse voice, and is a good deal bow-legged; he pretends to be something of a cobbler;—had on when he went away, a fustian coat, home-made kersey breeches and white yarn stockings. There is no doubt, but they will change their clothes as well as their names—they having been taken up on the 29th of December last at Dock-creek, in the state of Delaware, and committed by John Cole, Esq. (by the names of Stephen and Charles) to the care of John M'Wherts and Thomas Kerker, from whom they made their escape.——Whoever apprehends the above negroes, and has them secured in jail, so that the subscribers may get them again, shall receive the above reward, or fifty dollars for either.

WILL BE SOLD,
By Public Auction,

Seven contiguous Lots of Ground.

On one of these lots there are two Frame Houses, which rent for about £35 per annum; and on another there is a good Brick Building, of two stories, which with the adjoining garden rents for 200 dollars per annum. There are on the premises a great variety of fruit and ornamented trees.

The situation of these Lots in a very elevated and improving part of the city, renders them an object highly worthy of the attention of those who are desirous of building.

The terms of payment will be one fourth cash, one fourth in 60, one fourth in 90, and one fourth in 120 days.

Sales at Auction.
On Saturday the 20th April, at 2 o'clock P. M. on the premises,
Sundry Building and Garden Lots,

Some of them contigious to, and others at a small distance from the city, containing from about one quarter of an acre to about four acres each. The small lots front on Vine and Callowhill Streets, near Schuylkill—the large lots front on the south side of Francis Street, on the east side of Schuylkill river, on the west side of Schuylkill, second street, and on intermediate streets—the whole containing about 140 acres, being part of the tract known by the name of Springettsbury.

The situation of many of the lots is on high ground, commanding views of the Schuylkill, and supposed to be so much detached from the built parts of the city, as to be out of danger in case of an unhappy return of the fever.

Maps shewing the division of the ground, may be seen at the Coffee-house, at Ogden's tavern in Chesnut-street, at Sybert's tavern in the Nothern Liberties, and at the Middle and Upper Ferries on Schuylkill.

The abundance of stone, for building, on part of the ground, will prove very advantageous to purchasers, as it is proposed to sell at the same time those large quarries on the east side of the Schuylkill, near and above the bridge.

The terms will be cash for the lots of 49 1-2 and 50 feet front, and for those of a larger size one half cash immediately, and the other half to be paid in six months from the day of sale.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the Subscriber, on Tuesday the second of this inst. April, living in Kent county, Maryland, near Chester Town, the following described Negroes, viz. William, about 5 feet 5 or 6 inches high, a yellowish complexioned fellow, about thirty years of age, formerly the property of doctor William Matthews, he has been very much given to running away, and has been so often described in the public papers within this twelve months that any further description of him seems needless.—Jacob, about 6 feet high, and about 32 years of age, of a common Negroe complection, down look, his little finger of his left hand stands straight, occasioned by the cut of a sickle. Patt, the wife of said Jacob, about 27 years of age, a small light made woman of a yellowish complection, with thick lips for an American of her stature, she is a very good needle woman, and spins on either small or great wheel, and is very handy in any common house work.—Two children of the said Jacob's and Patt's, the one a male child about four years old, the other a female child about two years old. The above described Negroes took with them, besides their own wearing apparel, three coats, two of which were linsey cloth of a light grey color, both new; one of the two was a great deal too large for either of the said fellows; the other coat of brown cloth, half worn; three under jackets, one a velvet, another a drab, the other a light colored linsey cloth do, one new pair of Calf skin shoes, lined with linnen and bound with leather, one pair of boots remarkably large in the legs, several pairs of stockings and a silver watch, all stolen: their own wearing apparel as follows—William had on a light horse regimental coat worked with silver twist, (which coat he had when he was brought home to me the first of February last, a round sailor jacket (blue,) thickset breeches, patched with corduroy in the stride, with other necessary clothing. Jacob, two linsey cloth coatees, lead colored, one new the other half worn, blue linsey cloth jacket, half worn, two pairs of linsey cloth trowsers, of a lead colour, the one new the other half worn, tolerable good shoes and stockings. Patt has every day cloathing, and her children wore home-made linen and linsey, her other cloathing not so well known; it is uncertain which course they may take, as William is such an experienced coaster.

Any person or persons apprehending said negroes or sounding them, so that their master may get them again, shall be entitled to the above reward, or in proportion for either of them, that is to say, 40 dollars for each of the fellows, and twenty dollars for the wench and children, and if brought home, all reasonable charges paid by

The History of Pennsylvania,
By ROBERT PROUD,

In two octavo volumes.

A work entirely new, original, and highly interesting; embellished with a Portrait of the head of WILLIAM PENN, and a new Map of Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Maryland, and the State of Delaware, and parts adjacent.

IN this publication are exhibited the remarkable rise, happy progress, and extraordinary prosperity of that province, till near the time of the declared independency of the United States of America; effected by such uncommon and pacific means such singular, just and prudent policy, as appear no where in the history of nations, to have so generally, and so extensively prevailed, in any other country, to an equal degree of advancement, importance, and felicity of the people, and so generally to have excited the admiration of all observers, as in the flourishing and happy state of the province of Pennsylvania:—proper to be known and remembered by all those, who wish to be informed in the extraordinary melioration of this country, and in the means of rendering the inhabitants so happy and prosperous in former time; as well as an egregious example for posterity and surrounding states to imitate and improve upon, &c.

" Hoc opus, hoc studium, parvi properemus et ampli;
Si patriæ volumus, si nobis vivere cari " HOR.

In deeds like these, let all themselves approve,
Who seek their proper bliss, and country's love

NOTE.—The subscribers for this work are particularly desired to call, or send, for their respective copies, or to direct their friends, in, or near Philadelphia, to receive the same for them, at either of the two places first above mentioned. PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 15.

MR. FENNO,

IT is with reluctance that I find myself compelled to appear again before the public—but the illiberality of Major Jackson's publications of the 10th inst. obliges me to say a few words—not that I intend to pursue him through all his "positive and negative assertions" or his "algebraical" nonsense. It would be too absurd, and trifling with the patience of the citizens. Upon the first perusal of his piece, I did intend answering him very fully, but upon a more careful examination, I find all the testimony he has brought forward does not prove that I ever told him captain Jones had the Yellow Fever when I visited the ship Thomas Wilson,—so that we are upon the same ground on which we started. In order to shew my real opinion of the situation of the said ship, her crew and passengers, I herewith subjoin the report made immediately to the Board of Health, together with the certificates of some gentlemen, who questioned me very pointedly, in order to know whether there were any persons affected with the Yellow Fever on board the ship.

We have this day visited and examined the ship Thomas Wilson, captain Thomas A. Jones, last from Kingston, Jamaica, and find all the people on board in perfect health, except the captain, who says he had been sick in the West Indies in October last, from which he recovered, and was again taken sick soon after he left Jamaica on his passage home. He is not much indisposed at present, and is attending his duty on deck, but has his throat bound up in consequence of the operation of Mercury, which he has been using—his complaint does not appear to us to be what is commonly called the Yellow Fever, or any disease of a malignant contagious nature.

Four of his people died at Petit Guave and Kingston, the last of whom about the middle of October last, all of whose bedding and clothing was thrown overboard.

The ship, though rather dirty, does not exhibit any such stench as would be likely in our opinion to produce a contagious disease.

Upon the whole, notwithstanding, we could not pronounce her to be a sickly vessel, or that there was reason to apprehend any contagion existing on board, yet from prudential motives and to prevent alarm, we thought it proper to direct her to be moved down opposite to the marine hospital, and there to await the directions of the Board of Health.

JAMES HALL,
Resident Physician of the port.
SAMUEL DUFFIELD,
Consulting Physician.
WILLIAM ALLEN,
Health Officer of the port.

Philadelphia, March 23, 1799. } Copy.
To the Board of Managers.

I do hereby certify, that two or three days after the arrival of the ship Thomas Wilson, Thomas Jones, captain, in the Delaware opposite the city, I enquired of Doctor James Hall, whether it was true (as was then reported by many persons) that there were several persons ill of the Yellow Fever on board of the said ship; and that Dr. Hall assured me, there were not, and that there had been no such sickness in the vessel since the month of October last. I believe (but of this I cannot be certain) that Doctor Hall said the captain of the vessel was still unwell of a fever which he had contracted in the West Indies. I am persuaded, however, that the Doctor asserted, in the most decided and unequivocal manner, that there was no malignant fever, of any kind, on board the vessel, and he even requested me to make use of his name in saying so.

BENJAMIN SMITH BARTON.
Philadelphia, April 12th, 1799.

Philadelphia, April, 11th 1799.

I do certify and declare that sitting one evening in the latter end of March last, with several gentleman in the Land Office, Dr. James Hall entered and after the usual salutations, he was asked several questions relative to a vessel which had arrived on that or the proceeding day, from Jamaica. I do not at present, particularly recollect those questions, except the following. "Dr. is it true that the crew of that vessel are afflicted with the Yellow Fever?" to which he answered—no—but he was informed that four men had died on the outward passage, two at Petit Guave and two Kingston—that the capt. had been sick of a fever whilst abroad, where he had used a considerable quantity of Mercury and had been very incautious while under the operatione, of medicin for he had caught cold and had a slight fever, but was able to walk about. The Dr. added that as the captain was sick and the vessel very dirty, he had ordered the captain to proceed with her down the river, where she should perform Quarantine.

PETER BAYNTON.

Apirl 11*th*, 1799.

Having always felt pain and reluctance at the introduction of my name into a public print, yet ever willing when called upon to make as accurate a statement of any conversation that might have passed in my presence as my recollection will admit, I do therefore certify, at the request of Doctor James Hall, as follows, viz.

That on the day the ship Thomas Wilson was ordered down the river, I was sitting in company with several gentlemen in the house of John Hall, Esq. secretary of the Land office, at which time Doctor Hall entered the room—the Doctor having been asked several questions respecting the said ship, replied that from the information he had received, four men had died on board the said ship, that the captain had been sick of a West India or Jamaica fever, I cannot recollect which, and having incautiously used mercury had caught a bad cold and was now sick of a slight fever, that the captain had been on shore with some of the crew or passengers—That the vessel being extremely dirty and having come from a sickly Island, he (the Doctor) thought it prudent and proper, and had ordered the captain with the others on board, and had also ordered the vessel to proceed down the river, and that he had just left the wharf, having first seen the ship turn the point on her way down.

FRANCIS JOHNSTON.

After a perusal of the above, I think no person can suppose that I would seriously and deliberately assert as a fact that the captain had the yellow fever. However improper it might be to pass a joke on so serious a subject—I own that what I said to Mr. Keppele was only in jest—and he left me so abruptly that I could not have an explanation with him. I informed major Jackson personally before I came forward in the papers, of what passed between Mr. Keppele and myself in Chesnut street, and likewise added, that my intentions were to alarm him a little in order to spur him on in getting the health law passed; knowing him to be an active member of the Legislature, as I conceived it highly improper for vessels to come up to the city until they were examined, on board of whom any persons had been sick or had died—but unfortunately there was no law to prevent it---which was contemplated in the law then before the House.

JAMES HALL.

April 12.

That Algebra, or any other science, should appear nonsence to Doctor Hall, may readily be believed—that a rule of DEMONSTRATION (after what has passed) should seem peculiarly so to him can excite no surprise.

He has my pity—could any thing, he has said or written, have injured me, for one moment, in the estimation of a single person, I would add my forgiveness.

W. JACKSON.

PHILADELPHIA, March, 6, 1799.

GENTLEMEN,

A NUMBER of your fellow-citizens, now in Philadelphia, from different parts of the State, impressed with the importance of the approaching Election of Governor, have assembled at several times in order to ascertain what person, qualified for that office, would be generally acceptable.

From a persuasion that the general sentiments of the friends of the constitution, laws and government of our country had been, for some time, directed to JAMES ROSS, of Pittsburgh, a committe of Gentlemen from twenty one counties were appointed to wait on him, and had the pleasure to report to the meeting his consent to serve, if elected.

Committees have, therefore, been nominated in every county for the purpose of promoting the election of a Man whose talents, integrity and public conduct must endear him to his country, and afford the fairest prospect of a just, impartial and decisive administration.

Persuaded that these measures will meet with your concurrence you are requested, together with such gentlemen as you may associate with yourselves, as the committee of the county of to use your utmost exertions, with the friends of order and good government, to support, by their votes and influence, the Man of their choice. For this purpose it is recommended, that committees be formed, without delay, in each township or district in your county, with whom you will correspond, and that you likewise correspond with the committee for the city of Philadelphia, and with such of the committees for the counties as you may judge expedient. We enclose you lists of the members composing them; and take the liberty of suggesting, that care will be necessary, in writing or printing your tickets, to mention Mr. Ross's place of residence; and, in directing the letters, you may think it necessary to write to any of the other committees, to the person first named on such committees.

On an occasion so interesting, and at a period so critical, we think it our duty to remind you, that the happiness and tranquility of the state, and we might perhaps add, of the Union, eminently depend on the selection of a suitable person to fill the Chief Executive Office of Pennsylvania,—That we have, as Citizens, a solemn duty to perform in making the choice, and an obligation, no less, to support it when made.—That supineness and indifference are as much to be deprecated as prejudice and error, and that to relax in any possible exertion in your county may frustrate the labors of every other part of the state.

Benjamin R. Morgan, Secretary.

From our Correspondent at the port of New-Bedford April 2d. 1799.

Yesterday arrived in this port, the ship President, Andrew Pinkham, from a whale voyage, in the Pacific Ocean; obtained about 1200 bbls of spermacety oil and 50 bbls. of whale. Left the Gallipagus Islands the 15th of Sept. last; capt. Wm. Clark, in the ship Juno, of this port, left the said island, 8 days before him, all well, bound home with 1100 bbls. spermaceti oil. Capt. Pinkham lost four of his men during the voyage, two by sickness. viz. Rufus Haney, and Limbrick Tillinghest, blacks, one other black, Reuben Samson, drowned, by the oversetting of the boat in the surf, in bringing off turtles: and on the 26th ult. the captain lost his brother Moses Pinkham, who fell overboard from the quarter as he was heaving the log; all exertions to save him were fruitless. Was treated by the viceroy of Lima with great civility; after examining his papers gave him a writen protection on the back of his sea letter, against their cruisers. On the 23d Dec. Capt. Pinkham put into St. Catharine on the Brazil coasts to refresh his men, who were growing sick of the scurvy --was there hospitably treated by the Portuguese, and sailed from there the 13th of Jan. for home

Capt. Pinkham has politely furnished the following list of whalemen heard of and spoke with, in the Pacific Ocean, viz ships Maryland, Lescombe, of Newyork, in June had 100 bbls. all well; Commerce, Gardner of Nantucket, in August, had 150 bbls. all well Bedford, Barrey, of Newbedford, in August, had 150 bbls. all well, Barclay, Barney, of do. in August 500 bbls. all well; Hope, Giles, of Nantucket, in September had 500 bbls. all well; Hector worth, of do. in Sept. had 250 bbls. all well; Ruby Myrick, of do. in September, had 300 bbls. all well; Wareham, Clark, of Newbedford, in Sept. had 750 bbls. all well.

NEW YORK, April 13.

Extract of a letter from Savannah la Mar, dated 12th ult.

"We have got here (Black River) a brig called the Dolly. She came in on Friday the 8th inst. having fallen to leeward of Port Royal, whither the master meant to carry her. She was at anchor but a few hours, when captain Thatcher, of the ship Hebe, boarded and seized her by virtue of of his letter of marque commission, and his people are now in possession of her, by the advice of Mr. W. B. now at this place. He tells me he has written to collector W. and J. B. Esq. about the business, but had not got their answer.

The history of the brig is as follows: That about the 16 or 17th ult. she was captured from the French by the armed brig Genius or Janus, with a letter of marque, from New York, commanded by captain Cables.

The armed letter of marque belongs to Cadwallader Colden, of New York, and was completely fitted with 16 or 18 guns, and 70 or 80 men: and Mr. Colden himself was on board, and had a cargo of provisions &c. in her.

Soon after the capture of this French brig Dolly, captain Cables ordered one of his lieutenants with 4 or 5 hands to take possession of her and proceed to Tortola; but if she would not beat up thither, that he was to proceed to Jamaica. He could not beat up to Tortola, and was obliged to bear away for this Island. The vessel being light, only about six or eight casks of Sugar and rum on board, on her way down she was boarded by two of his majesty's frigates, who, on examining his papers, permitted him to proceed without molestation.

A third British ship of war hove in sight and hailed him; and while the lieutenant or prize master, captain J. B Smith, was getting ready to go on board with his papers, the vessel gave a lee lurch or jibe, by which means the papers were thrown out of his pocket into the sea, and he could not recover them. But the British commander on examining his log book, and understanding that the other two men of war did not disturb or annoy him, he allowed him to proceed.

All these particulars are set forth by capt. B. Smith, in his affidavit of protest, in a circumstantial manner, joined by his four seamen and the French captain of the Dolly, which belonged to Guadaloupe; and as captain Smith is a total stranger in Jamaica, and without friends, and no American council being in that island that he can hear of, he claims the protection and aid of the British government, &c. He has no money, and seems really destitute."

It is said there is in town a letter of a late date from a gentleman of this city, at Gibraltar; stating, that information had been received there, of the French having got into Naples, and made a general slaughter of all the Nobles, Religieuses, &c.

On Saturday evening last, a most daring robbery was committed upon the property of Mr. Daniel Duval, in North Second Street, by some of the free-booters who now infest our city. They entered the house by the cellar-door, cut through the floor into the shop, and took from thence 130 gold and silver watches, and other property, in all to the amount of about 2000 dollars.

MR. FENNO,

I TAKE the liberty of sending you the following extract of a letter from the prize master of the ship Cicero, retaken from the French by the American Frigate United States, capt. Barry, dated St. Pierre, Martinique, March 9th:—not doubting that you will take the earliest opportunity of inserting it in your Gazette.

"I have been here in this ship (Cicero) about ten days prize master; she belongs to Liverpool, was captured by the French privateer schooner Democrat, and re-captured by the United States, and sent in here; her cargo consists principally of live stock; she will bring about 30,000 dollars; is a fine ship of 430 tons, mounts 20 nine pounders, and carries 50 men (say 35 men and 15 boys) The privateer mounts 12 nine pounders and had 100 men; they fought her 2½ hours, and after the French boarded, fought ¾ of an hour on the deck. Out of the 50 hands on board, the captain and 3 men were killed, and 26 wounded. Could I but give you a description of the scene this ship presented when we first took possession of her, it would make your very soul shudder within you. Never were men more inhumanely mangled than they are: and much of it done after they gave up. A little boy, less than our brother William [a child about 9 years of age] who was a favorite of the captain's was ordered by the Frenchmen to go aloft and haul down the colors; he cried and said he could not, which was the fact. A Frenchman immediately up with his cutlass and cut his arm almost off and wounded him in several places. The Englishmen, there can be no doubt, fought like men; every thing on board proves it. The French had possession about 36 hours before we recaptured her; during which time not one of the poor fellows who had been wounded, had been dressed, nor a single bucket of water thrown on the deck; they were in a perfect gore of blood. I declare when the ship rolled with the heave of the sea, the blood in the cabbin would run from side to side in a perfect current.

"You no doubt have heard of Truxton's success and glory in the capture of the Insurgente; she was the last French frigate left out here; the rest are all gone to France. We have now no other hope but to capture the privateers of which there are still numbers out of Guadaloupe—and to whom our ship is as well known as she is to you, and is as much dreaded as they are by our merchantmen.

"The capture of this ship Cicero ought to be a serious lesson to our merchants how they fit out their ships; they put on board 10 or 12 guns with twice the number of men at the utmost, and then think she is able to defend herself against any thing they can possibly meet with—Tis a great mistake—it is incredible how those Frenchman fight when drove to it by desperation. To see this ship you would think it impossible they could have had the courage to have engaged her much less have carried her. The fact is they have nothing to lose and every thing to gain, and whenever they see any thing that looks like plunder, nothing will deter them from attempting it.

"Yesterday (9th March) a gentleman informed me of war having been declared against America by Guadaloupe, 'Statia and St. Martins. He has learnt it by a letter from St. Thomas'. If this be the case there can be no doubt but their respective governors have their orders from France, as they could not dare to go so far without such orders; of course the declaration of war will be general."

☞ Letter Bag of the ship Juno for Hamburgh, will remain at the Bar of the Coffee-House until the 14th inst.

Our accounts from Northampton are to the morning of Friday last, when the army lay at Miller's Town, but were on the point of moving to Allen town, where they were to encamp on Friday evening. A troop of horse from Lancaster, another from Chester, and one from Montgomery, had arrived at head quarters:—These had afforded considerable relief to the other troops of cavalry, which had before that been much harrassed with frequent excursions after the insurgents, and without much success latterly, as they had become alarmed, and the most active of them had fled from their homes. Several parties had been in pursuit of a person by the name of Marks, of Quaker-town, a leading character among them, but he had eluded the pursuit.

A review of the troops had taken place, which had given great satisfaction—the body of horse amounting to between four and five hundred, with artillery and infantry proportionable. A company of volunteer infantry, from Reading, had joined the army. It is supposed that the Cavalry of this city will return in the course of the present week.

COMMUNICATIONS.

IT is a notorious fact that a number of the artizans of this city employed by the United States in carrying into effect the late laws for the defence of the country, are of politics destructive to the constitution.

No one ought to enjoy advantages arising from laws which by the most insiduous and violent attacks they are endeavouring to annul. The support of a government should always be particularly extended to those who, by their principles and actions, strengthen and assist that government in its operations.—When this support is in another manner applied it is certainly in direct sanction of a contrary conduct—That this cannot be the intention of our public officers I am convinced—it must have arisen from inattention: but be the cause when it may, the effect is the same——A Southwark democrat in conversation a short time ago, after abusing the government and advocating the conduct of the "Impey" of the day whom he declared he would support at the next election, broke out in an exclamation "what do the government think of you aristocrats; they dont trust you with employment—the most of the work is done by us democrats".——That individuals should so strongly draw the line of discrimination as to refuse employment to a man because of politics might be improper, but every principle of Justice and reason proves a conduct of that kind proper in the Government.

IT is a point of great importance, with our liberty and equality-men to obliterate from the heart all traces of national love and affection. In its stead, the infusion into the mind of the principles of cosmopolitism is attempted by all possible expedients. For they well know, that if the mind can be brought to throw off those attachments which are natural, and adopt the forced sentiments which they endeavor to render plausible and imposing, it is well fitted to progress in their greater and more important doctrines of atheism, anarchy and general confusion.—A warm attachment to our natal soil is, therefore, condemned by these philosophers, as a narrow and illiberal prejudice. The pleasant scene of our early pleasures, the country which has nourished and cherished us, according to their system, is entitled to no higher place in our affections than the sandy plains of Arabia; its inhabitants, our friends and fellow-citizens, to no greater portion of our love than the roving robbers of the desert. This in fact, is the amount of their doctrine, though its extent is not openly acknowledged, and many fine spun veils of logical and reasoning are fabricated to conceal its tendency and end. They tell us that the affections of the soul should not be confined by the narrow limits of kingdoms or countries, but should expand themselves through the whole world, and embrace all nations.—This idea upon a general and superficial view appears plausible, nay flattering: but it is deceitful and founded upon false principles.

It is a natural and spontaneous dictate of the heart, confirmed by reason and sound judgment, that we should reward with gratitude, those who have conferred upon us a benefit; and more especially when this benefit is unasked, when it has been bestowed without our own intervention or application, the ties of gratitude become doubly binding, and our affections are more forcibly and strongly interested. Does not our country then deserve our utmost gratitude, and our closest attachment? Its laws have afforded us protection and security. It is under their auspices that we enjoy the advantages which civilization boasts over barbarism. It is the laws and energies of our country which have saved us from being plundered, oppressed and enslaved by foreign nations. It is to them, in short, that we are indebted for all our pleasures and happiness; for without laws our happiness and pleasures would be at the disposal of any one whose inclinations might prompt, and whose superior strength or ingenuity might enable him to deprive us of them. In our country's bosom have we first seen the light, and on its lap have we been nursed and brought up to maturity. In its citizens we behold our acquaintance, connexions, friends and brothers; every thing, indeed, that is dear and delightful to us. When such is the hold which our native country has upon our noblest and most generous feelings, can we without divesting the heart of its sensibility, and the mind of its reason and judgment, declare that it has no claims upon us for our gratitude and affection? The man who can do it, is far advanced in the doctrines of modern philosophy and well qualified for an initiation into the higher degrees of the mysteries of disorganization.

☞ The Letter Bags of the ship Juno, Wolters, and brig Liberty, Henderson, for Hamburgh, will be taken from the Coffee House to-morrow.

Died on the 10th inst. Mrs. ELIZABETH KUHN, wife of Mr. Peter Kuhn merchant, of this City, in the 42d year of her age, after a painful and lingering illness, which she bore with christian resignation. She was an affectionate wife and a tender mother to a numerous family of children, who will long have to mourn her departure. Her remains were on Friday last interred in the German Lutheran burial ground, attended by a large and respectable concourse of mourning friends and acquaintances—

Ye wheels of Nature, speed your course;
Ye mortal powers decay;
Fast as ye bring the night of death,
Ye bring eternal day.

JACOB PERKINS,

HAVING invented an effectual check for detecting counterfeit Bank Paper, which has received the sanction of one Bank, and the approbation of the undersigned eminent artists, and having obtained a patent, securing to him, and to his assigns, the exclusive right of the invention, hereby offers to his fellow citizens the privilege of using it upon terms, to be agreed on between him and any person disposed to avail themselves of a guard against counterfeits.

THE undersigned having examined Jacob Perkin's new invented method to detect counterfeit Bank paper, do approve of the plan, it being impossible to engrave or sink two plates perfectly alike, without the original die or hub, the counterfeiter would find it impossible to make an impression which would perfectly gage with the check from the original die.

MAYOR'S OFFICE

REMOVED to 157 South Second-street.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber this day, at noon, two mulatto house Servants, viz Ned, but commonly called Edward among his companions, well known as the subscriber's coachman and waiting man for several years in this city and in New-York—he is a tall strait made mulatto with a large bushy head of hair, about 32 years of age, has a low forehead, with small eyes, a sullen dark look and is much inclined to be abrupt and insolent, one of his legs something smaller than the other from a fracture in his youth; he generally wears a brown cloth coatee with red cuffs and cape and red edging, or sustian with red cuffs and cape; had on when he went away an old forest cloth surtout, mix'd brown and yellow, and has a box coat of light colored drab, with red and white livery lace, but as I do not know what other clothes he had on, may change his dress.

Nelly, calling herself Wife to the before named Ned, she is much above the middle stature, strait made with falling shoulders, has a remarkable ferocious countenance and is very passionate, quarrelsome, and noisy, she is rather a fair mulatto—has lost one or two of her front teeth, which she supplies with wax, and has a large scar between her shoulders occasioned by a blister; she is about forty five years of age, has a very masculine air in her walk, she carried away with her several gowns of different colored cotton; the above reward will be given for apprehending and securing them in any Jail in the United States and giving notice to the subscriber; or fifty dollars for securing either of them.——All persons are cautioned against harboring, entertaining, or concealing the above servants or either of them; and all masters of vessels and others are warned against carrying them from the United States,
